The Stanford Association for International Development presents

RETHERNKING REFORM

INNOVATIONS IN IMPROVING GOVERNANCE

March 3rd, 2012
9am-4pm
Cubberley Auditorium

with a keynote address from
John Githongo
CEO of Inuka Kenya Trust,
Former Permanent Secretary for Government and Ethics to the President at Kenya

in association with Stanford University
ASSU
Associated Students of Stanford University

Center for African Studies
Stanford University
STEPFORD
DEPARTMENT of ECONOMICS
ONOMICIAN NETWORK

FSI
Rethinking Reform: Innovations in Improving Governance

9:00-9:30 am: Welcome Breakfast and Registration // Cubberley Auditorium Lobby

9:30-10:30 am: Introduction & Keynote Address // Cubberley Auditorium

Introduction: Jonah Rexer and Colin Casey, Conference Directors, Stanford Association for International Development

Keynote Address: John Githongo, CEO of Inuka Kenya Trust, Former Permanent Secretary for Government and Ethics to the President of Kenya

10:45-12:30 pm: Panel Session I

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>New Democratic Touchstones</th>
<th>ICT4G</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>The Expanding Roles of Transparency and Accountability in Fighting Corruption</td>
<td>Technological Innovation and Governance</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Location:
Cubberley Auditorium

Moderator:
Larry Diamond
Director, Center on Democracy, Development, and the Rule of Law, Senior Fellow, Freeman Spogli Institute, Stanford University

Speakers:
Jonas Moberg
Head of Secretariat, Extractive Industries Transparency Initiative

Angelo Izama
Journalist, former Knight Journalism Fellow at Stanford University

Robert Klitgaard
University Professor, Claremont Graduate University

Alex Howard
Government 2.0 Correspondent, O'Reilly Media

Stacy Donohue
Director of Investments, Omidyar Network

Bryan Sivak
Chief Innovation Officer, State of Maryland

Abhi Nemani
Director of Strategy, Code for America

Dakin Sloss
Founder and Executive Director, California Common Sense
12:30-1:15 pm: Lunch and NGO Fair // NGOs, student organizations, and sandwiches in courtyard and lobby

1:30-3:15 pm: Panel Session II

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Governance at the Grassroots</th>
<th>Delivering Development</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Building Institutions from the Bottom-Up</td>
<td>Leadership and State Capacity</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Location:</td>
<td>Location:</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>History Corner, 200-002</td>
<td>Cubberley Auditorium</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Moderator:</td>
<td>Moderator:</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Kavita Ramdas Executive Director, From Ripples to Waves: Program on Social Entrepreneurship and Development, FSI, Stanford University</td>
<td>Jeremy Weinstein Associate Professor of Political Science, Senior Fellow, Freeman Spogli Institute for International Studies, Stanford University</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Speakers:</td>
<td>Speakers:</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Katherine Casey Assistant Professor, Stanford Graduate School of Business</td>
<td>Richard Messick Senior Public Sector Specialist, The World Bank Group</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Warren Krafchik Director, International Budget Partnership</td>
<td>Hajia Amina Mohammed Az-Zubair Former Senior Special Assistant to the President of Nigeria on the Millennium Development Goals</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Muadi Mukenge Director for Sub-Saharan Africa, Global Fund for Women</td>
<td>Francis Fukuyama Olivier Nomellini Senior Fellow, Freeman Spogli Institute, Stanford University</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

3:30-4:00 pm: Closing Remarks // Cubberley Auditorium

Kavita Ramdas, Executive Director, From Ripples to Waves: Program on Social Entrepreneurship and Development, FSI, Stanford University
Panel Session & Speaker Information

Keynote Address:

John Githongo
CEO, Inuka Kenya Trust, Former Permanent Secretary for Government and Ethics to the President of Kenya

John Githongo is the Founder and CEO of Inuka Kenya Trust, a civil society organization that advocates for social and political change in Kenya. He holds an Honours degree in Economics and Philosophy from the University of Wales, and an Honorary Doctorate from the Open University. In the past he has served as Vice President Policy and Advocacy, World Vision International and Senior Associate Member, St. Antony's College, Oxford. Between 2003 and 2005 he served as Permanent Secretary for Government and Ethics, Office of the President of Kenya. Prior to that he was a director of Transparency International-Berlin and founder and Executive Director of Transparency International-Kenya. He has served as a columnist for the East African between 1995 and 2003 and at various times a correspondent for The Economist and other publications. He is a member of the boards of the following organizations, among others: Africa Institute for Governing with Integrity, Freedom House, the Advisory Council of Transparency International-Berlin, and the Mathare Community Resource Centre. He is chairman of the board for the Africa Centre for Open Governance (AfriCOG).

Closing Remarks:

Kavita Ramdas
Executive Director, From Ripples to Waves: Program on Social Entrepreneurship and Development, FSI, Stanford University

Kavita N. Ramdas is the Executive Director of Ripples to Waves: Program on Social Entrepreneurship and Development at Stanford's Freeman Spogli Institute for International Studies. From September 2010 to June 2011, Kavita was a Visiting Scholar at Stanford’s Center on Democracy, Development, and Rule of Law (CDDRL) and at the Center for Philanthropy and Civil Society (PACS). From 1996 to 2010 she served as President and CEO of the Global Fund for Women. Kavita provided leadership and direction for the largest grantmaking foundation in the world focused exclusively on supporting international women’s human rights. During her tenure, Global Fund assets increased to more than $20 million from $3 million, grantmaking rose annually at a rate of 12 percent, and the number of countries in which the Global Fund has made grants nearly tripled. Kavita extends her expertise in women’s human rights, social justice philanthropy, and international development to her diverse array of professional affiliations. She serves as a trustee of Princeton University, Mount Holyoke College, and the Rockefeller Brothers Fund. Kavita also serves on the board of Planned Parenthood Federation of America and the African Women’s Development Fund USA. She is a Henry Crown Fellow of the Aspen Institute and currently chairs the Expert Working Group of the Council of Global Leaders for Reproductive Health, an initiative of the Aspen Institute, led by Mary Robinson, former President of Ireland. She also chairs the Women in Public Service initiative, a joint effort by the US State Department and an alliance of women’s colleges. Kavita received academic training at Delhi University, holds a BA in Politics and International Relations from Mount Holyoke College and has a Master’s Degree in Public Affairs with a focus on International Development from Princeton University's Woodrow Wilson School of Public and International Affairs. She has traveled widely across the globe and is fluent in Hindi/Urdu, English and German and conversant in Tamil, Spanish and French.